communication is . . .

the Beginning of understanding communicating with people

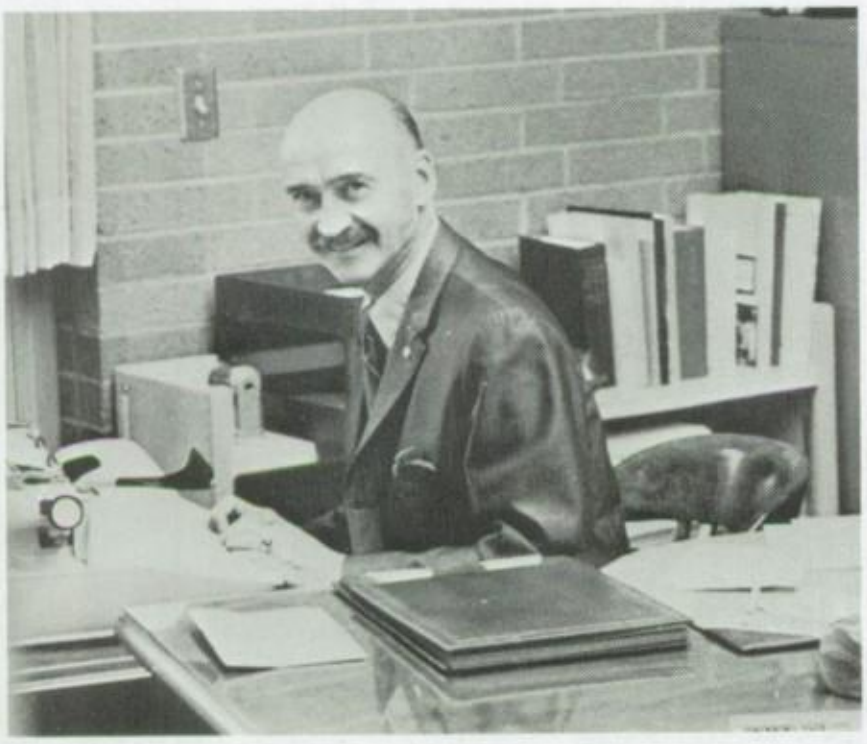
snyder comes across



In an interview with Mr. Snyder, we asked him if he felt using communication is important for the principal of CSHS. He said "You have to have good communication. It's the heart of human relations." When asked what he thought of communications he stated, "You have to come across loud and clear and take more time to listen, for understanding." He feels that our student body is way ahead of most in communications.

We Dedicate This Book . . .

For three years now Mr. Ken Miller has been gaining nothing but respect and good thoughts from the students and faculty. He gained his popularity by his ability to communicate. He gives an equal chance to all, becuase he believes that although everyone is different, they are all equal.

Not only through understanding, but by actually getting in to work with organizations, such as the Red and Gold Show, coaching JV baseball, and teaching senior class government, he communicates.

So for all your patience, understanding, and good humor, Mr. Miller, we dedicate this 1970-71 Caduceus to you.

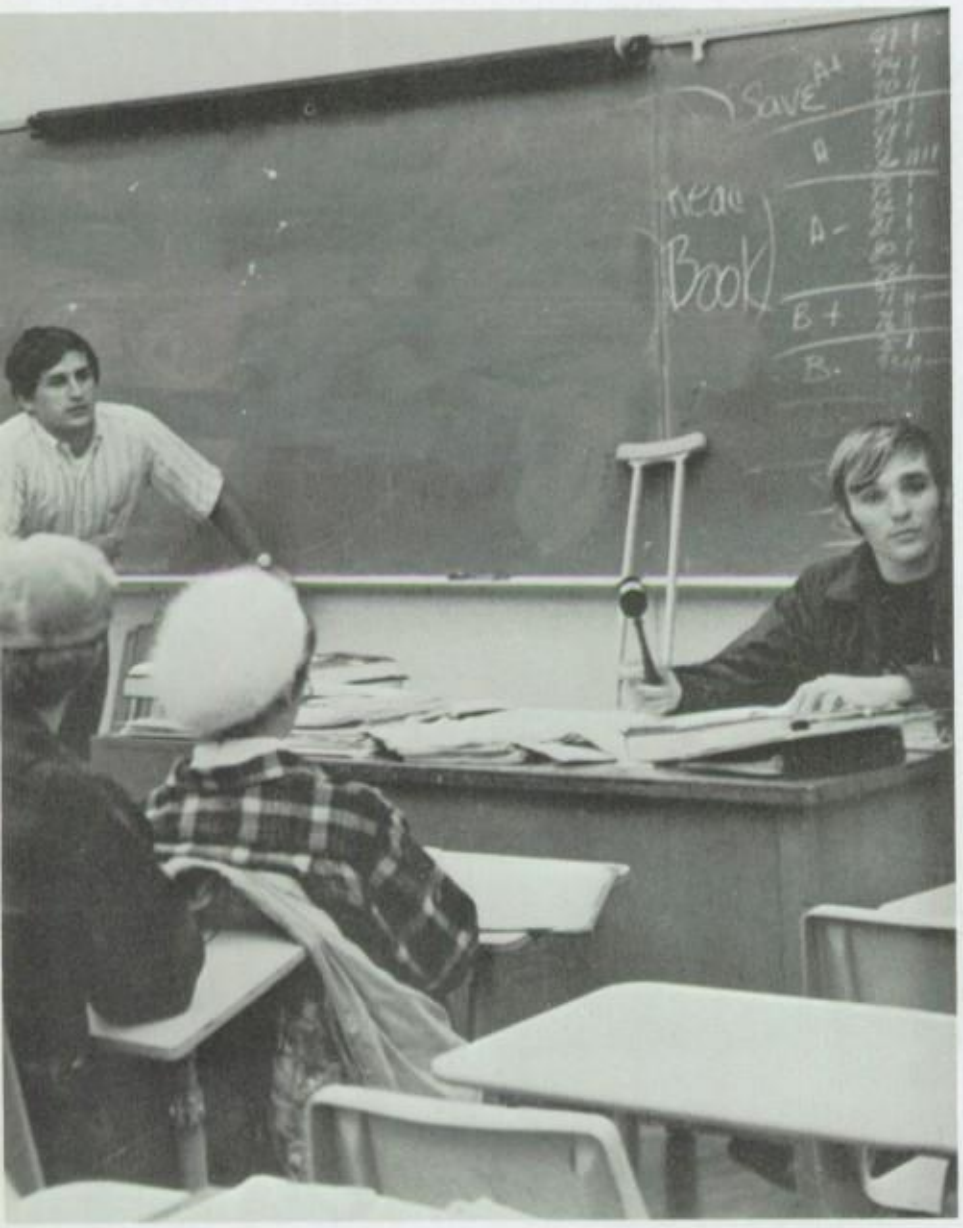
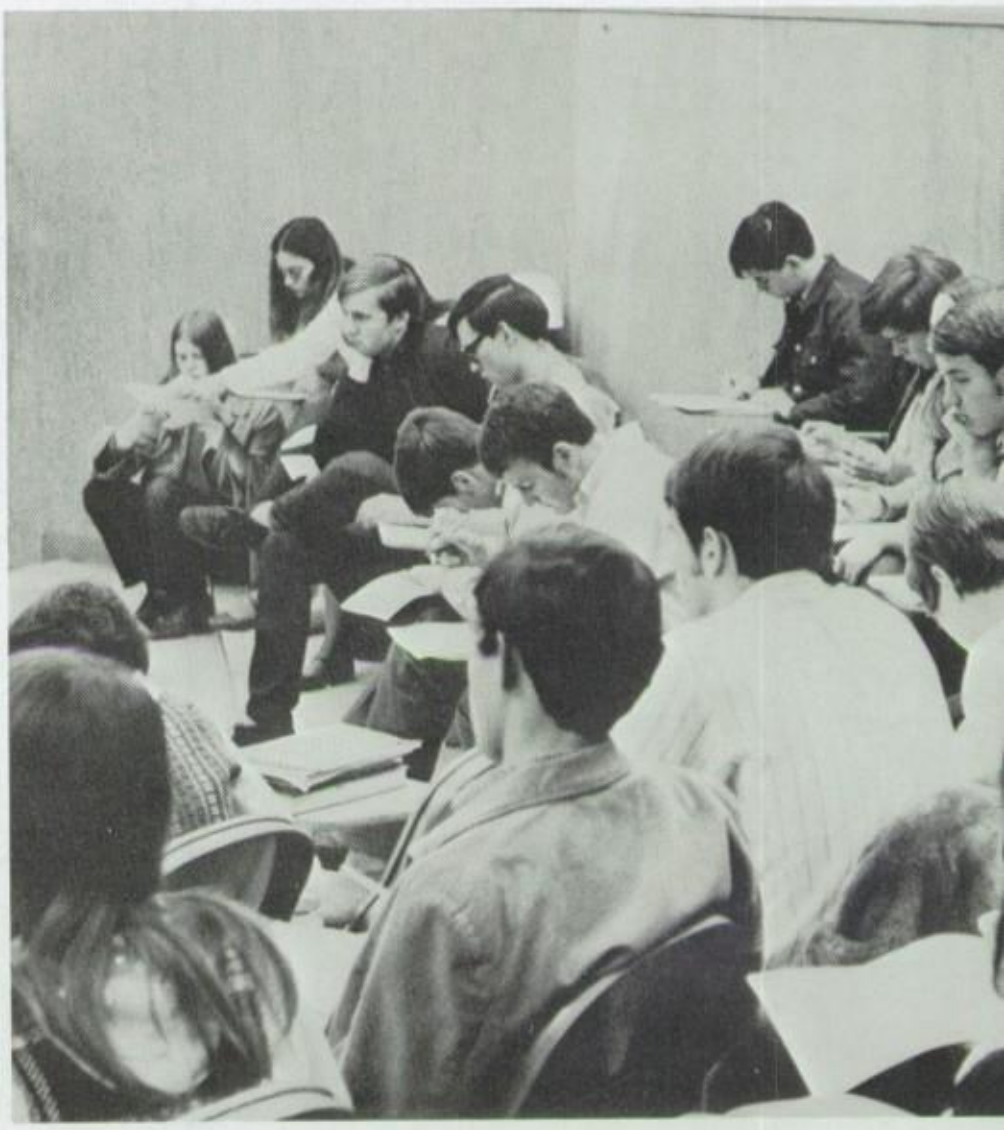
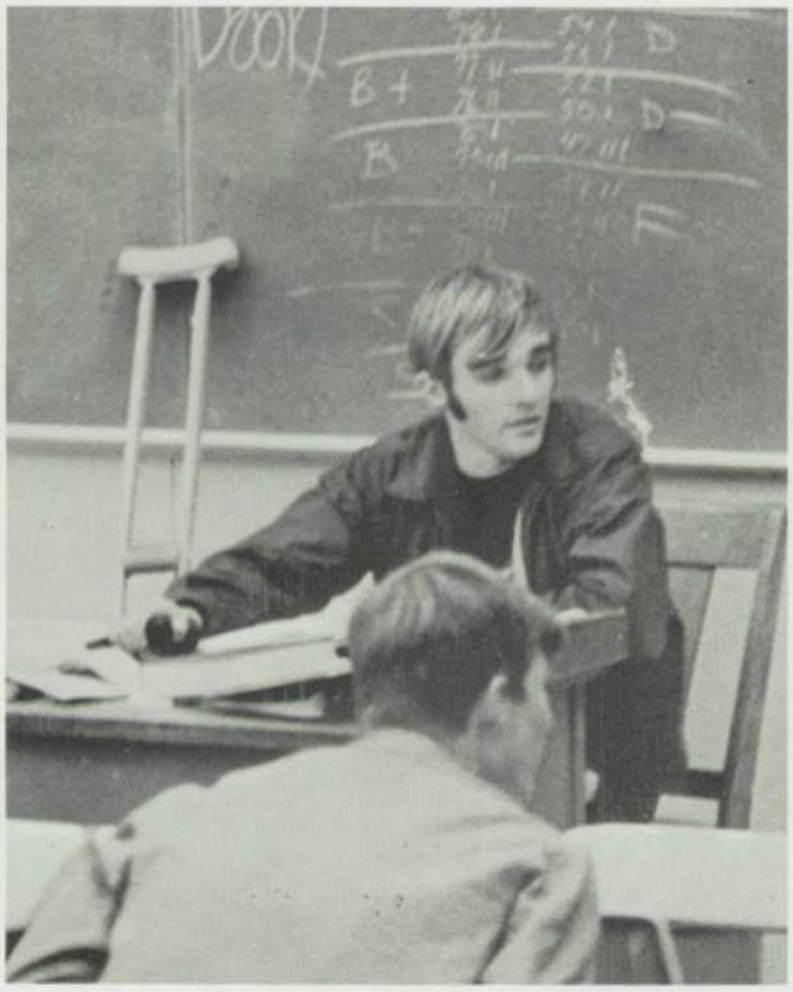
Mr. Cook listens to the Student Body officers.



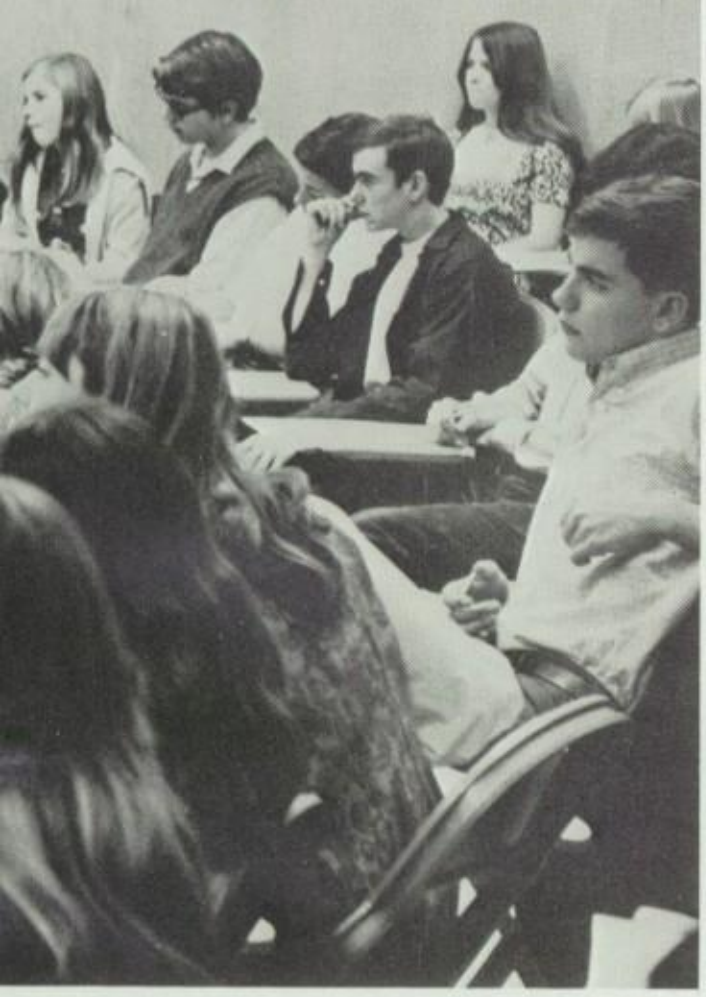


The Assembly takes notes.



Vern Granneman answers a question.

Tino Bernadett lectures the Assembly.



student government

A lot of people at this school think that student government is a farce, the administration's rubber stamp. In some ways this may be true, but this year the members of student government tried to break away from that image and do things on their own.

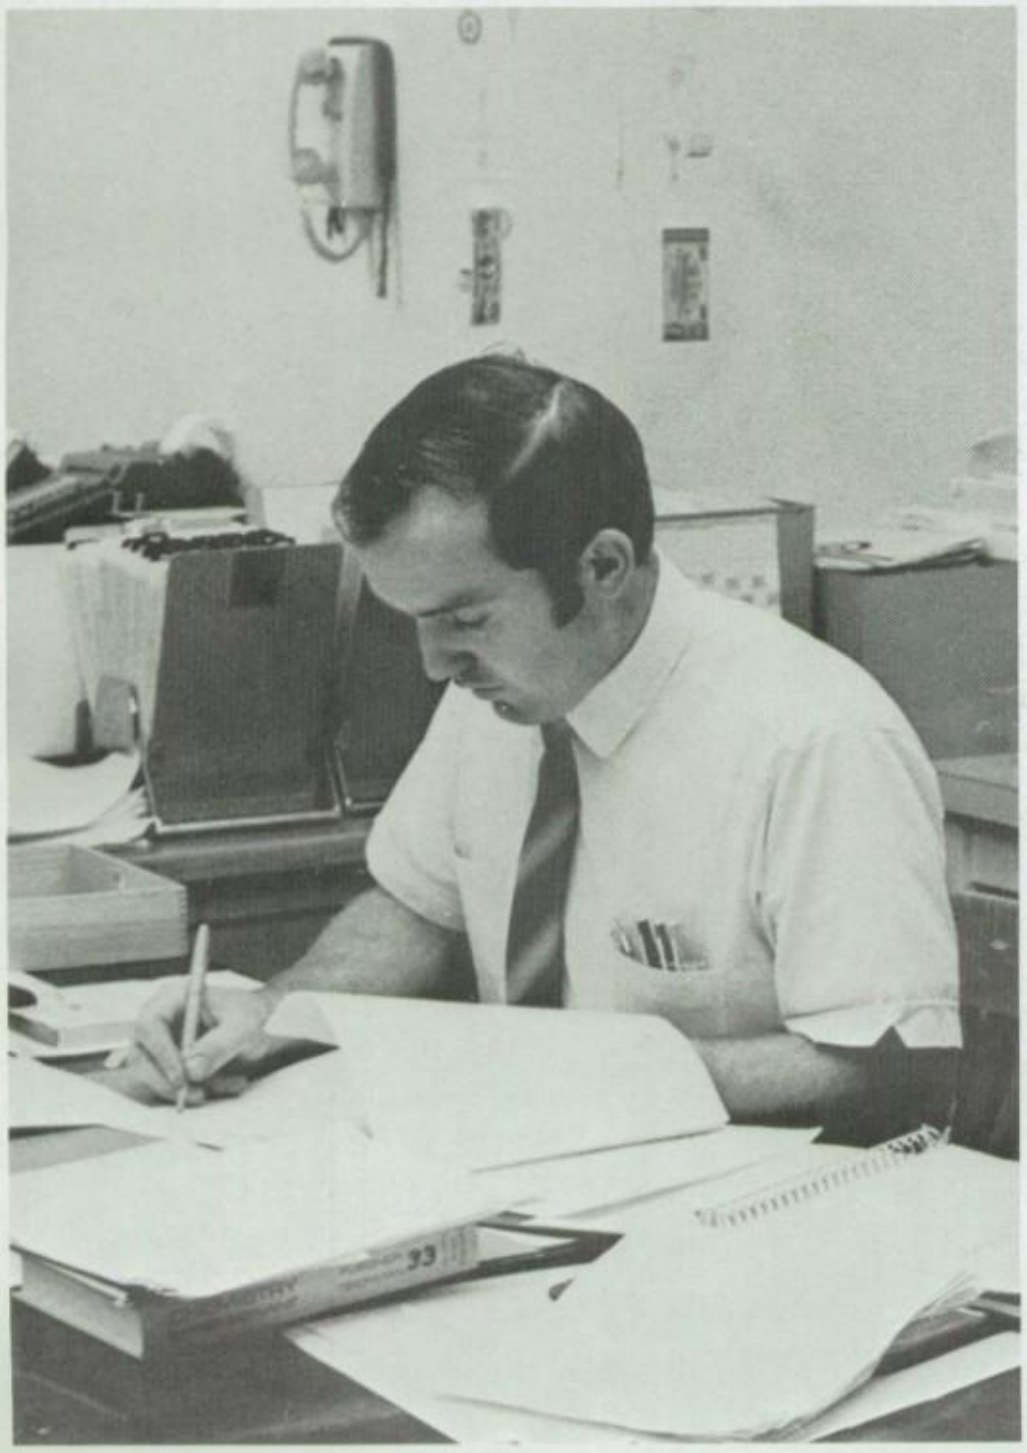
Planning is the key to what happens around school and people in student government cannot do it all. Some of the plans for this year were a Nominating Convention for student-body elections, reorganization of student government and constitution, and having a fantastic fun week.

mr. fox

Mr. Fox director of student activities, comes from Boston, Massachusetts. In his opinion of the school he says, "This school is great, a nice place. It is different than any other school I have tried out." He likes flexible scheduling, and says, "it really works here."

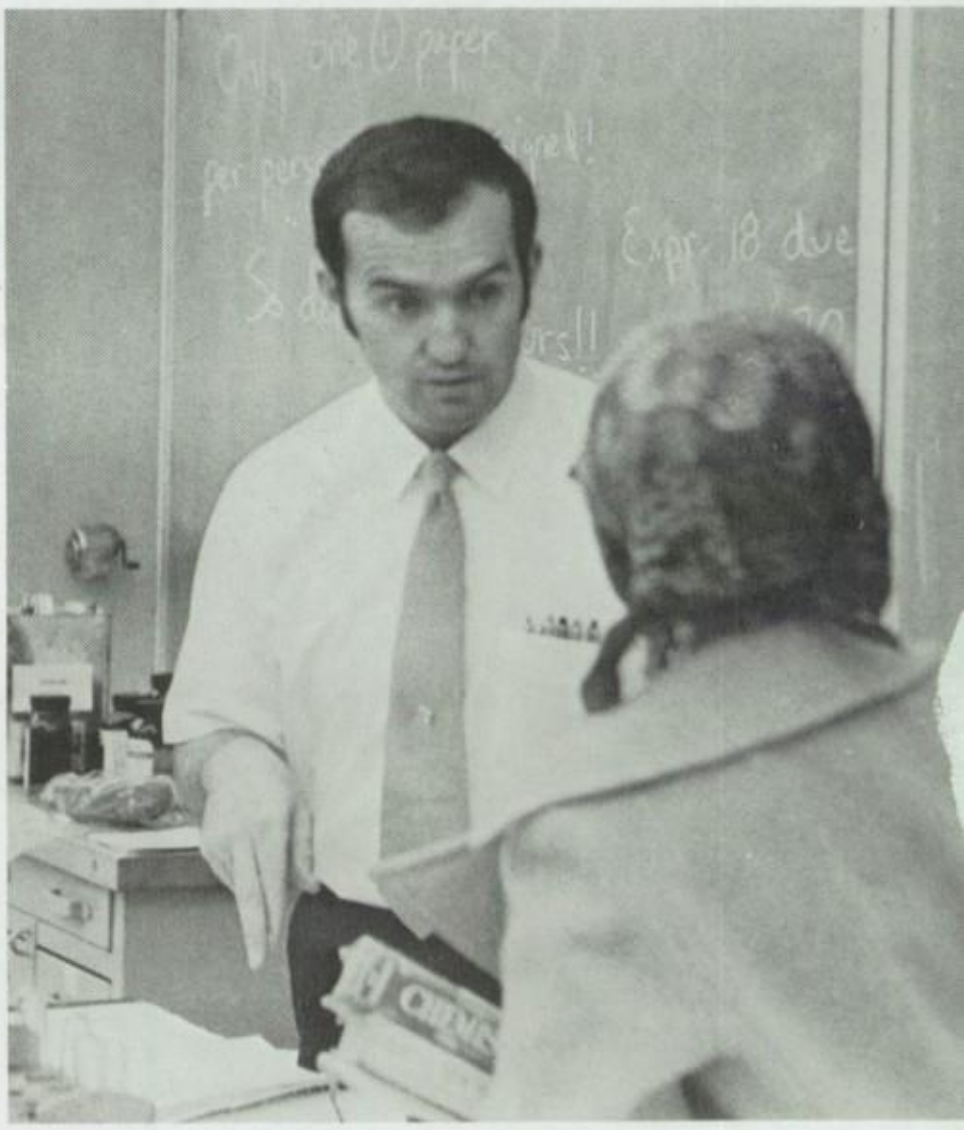
He has a part in many school activities, and enjoys helping students with their projects. Mr. Fox has many goals. To mention a few, he is concerned with organizing student government. He would like to expand and get more for the Panther Post.

John Sutthoff makes a point with Student Body Officers.



Mr. Fox fills out reports.

Mr. Fox answers a question.

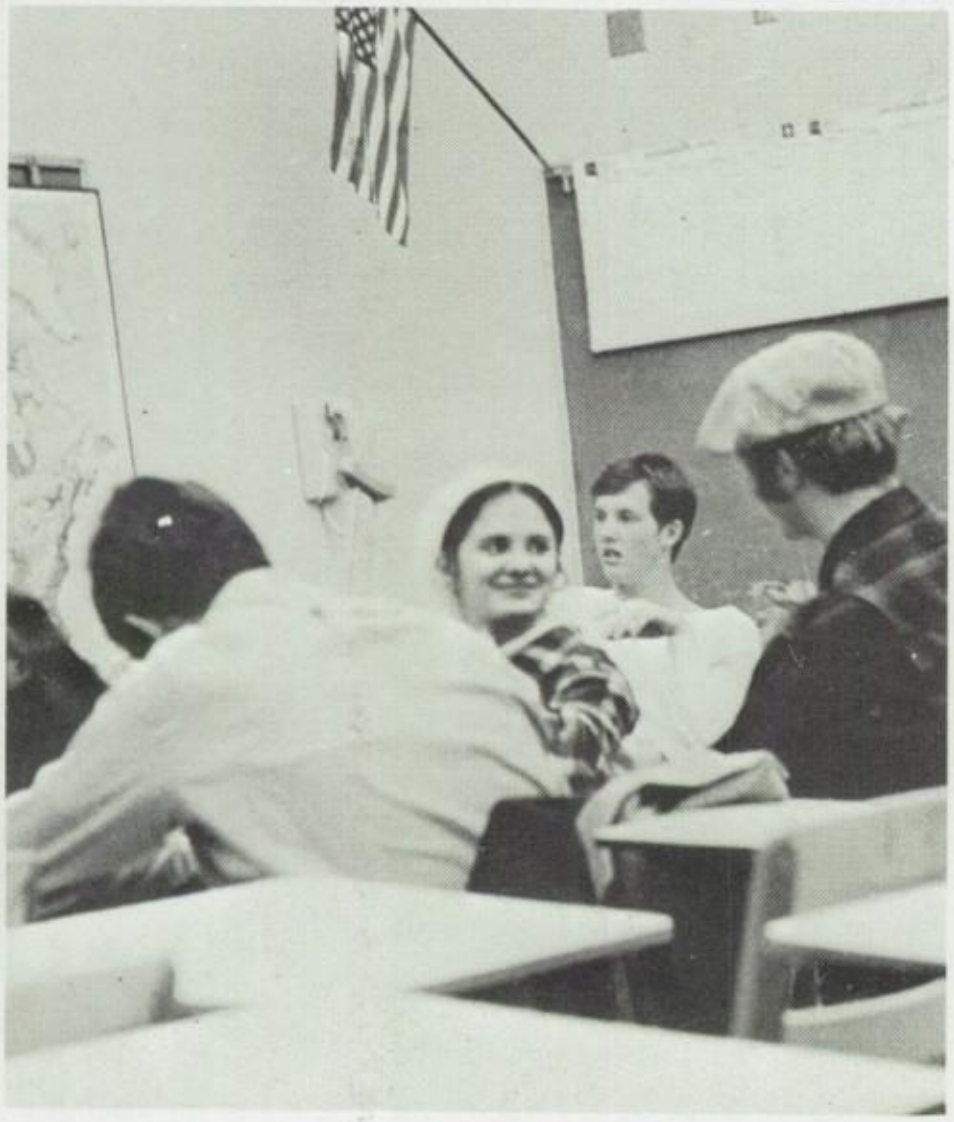


Mrs. Priel smiles.

Mrs. Priel takes orders.

MRS. PRIEL

Mrs. Priel's main job is to handle funds, accounts for Associated Student clubs, organizations and Sports. She's been helping the students of our fine school for 14 years. We really appreciate Mrs. Priel's work and we couldn't get along without it. So we thank you Mrs. Priel.



Irene Carpenter glances back.

SENIOR SPIRIT SOARES

What word descirbes this year's Senior class? Try outstanding. Led by Hal Neff, the Senior class out-did the other classes despite its smaller size. They showed more spirit and pep this year than ever before. Now that their last year is finished, they can look back and be proud that they were part of the Senior class of '71.

Senior Class officers: Hal Neff, president; Val Flournoy, vice-president; Candy Healless, treasurer; Debbie Laws, secretary; and Ron Pope, justice.

JUNIORS UNITE

Through much understanding and better communication, the Junior class has united. With such activities as the Christmas toy drive, Senior farewell, and other team projects, they have learned that it is important to be able to work together. Everyday brought new ideas on how they could still learn from one another. So with one year behind them and one to go, they have a pretty good headstart for their final but best year at Chico High.

class of "73"

The sophomore's at CSHS "say" that Chico Senior High is different than Junior High, because, they have more responsibilities, more freedom to do what they want and need to do in school. This year's sophomore class is quite active in the school, in clubs and many other school activities. The class of "73" hopes to accomplish many things, such as, working with the school's government, with activities, and with off-campus problems.

communication through activities

The activities this year at CSHS were varied and interesting. The pep bus trip to Wooster, at Reno, was a memorable event. "Jane Eyre," starring Charisse Kennard and Jeff Dick and "Up the Down Staircase," starring Pam Gates and Al Paradise were the major productions of the drama department. Musica Nova brought many students to Lincoln Hall. Many speakers such as Fred Davis, speaking on city government, Gordon Ginn, the regional director for the John Birch Society, Jules Vantrot speaking on current pollution problems and Rick Carrena, an ex-Hells Angel, drew crowds. Groundhog day and fun week were both exciting times for students of Chico High.

Our school nurse, Mrs. Linge appraises health status of pupils, counsels pupils, teachers, parents, and others for the purpose of helping pupils obtain needed treatment, or for arranging school programs in keeping with abilities. She provides emergency care for injury and sudden illness. As the concepts of education which deals in terms of life requirements, health has become a natural concern of the school. Health is a functional activity. It deals with the process of living and its needs.

Mr. Alexander is responsible for student rules and discipline procedures. He has worked hard to make flexible scheduling work smoothly by helping students to understand their responsibilities.

WORKING

Mrs. Lathrop, Mrs. McNally, Mrs. Furtado, and Mrs. Griffin are an important part of CSHS. With the help of the large number of new books from the ESEA grant, the library played an ever more important part in the education during the 1970-71 school year.

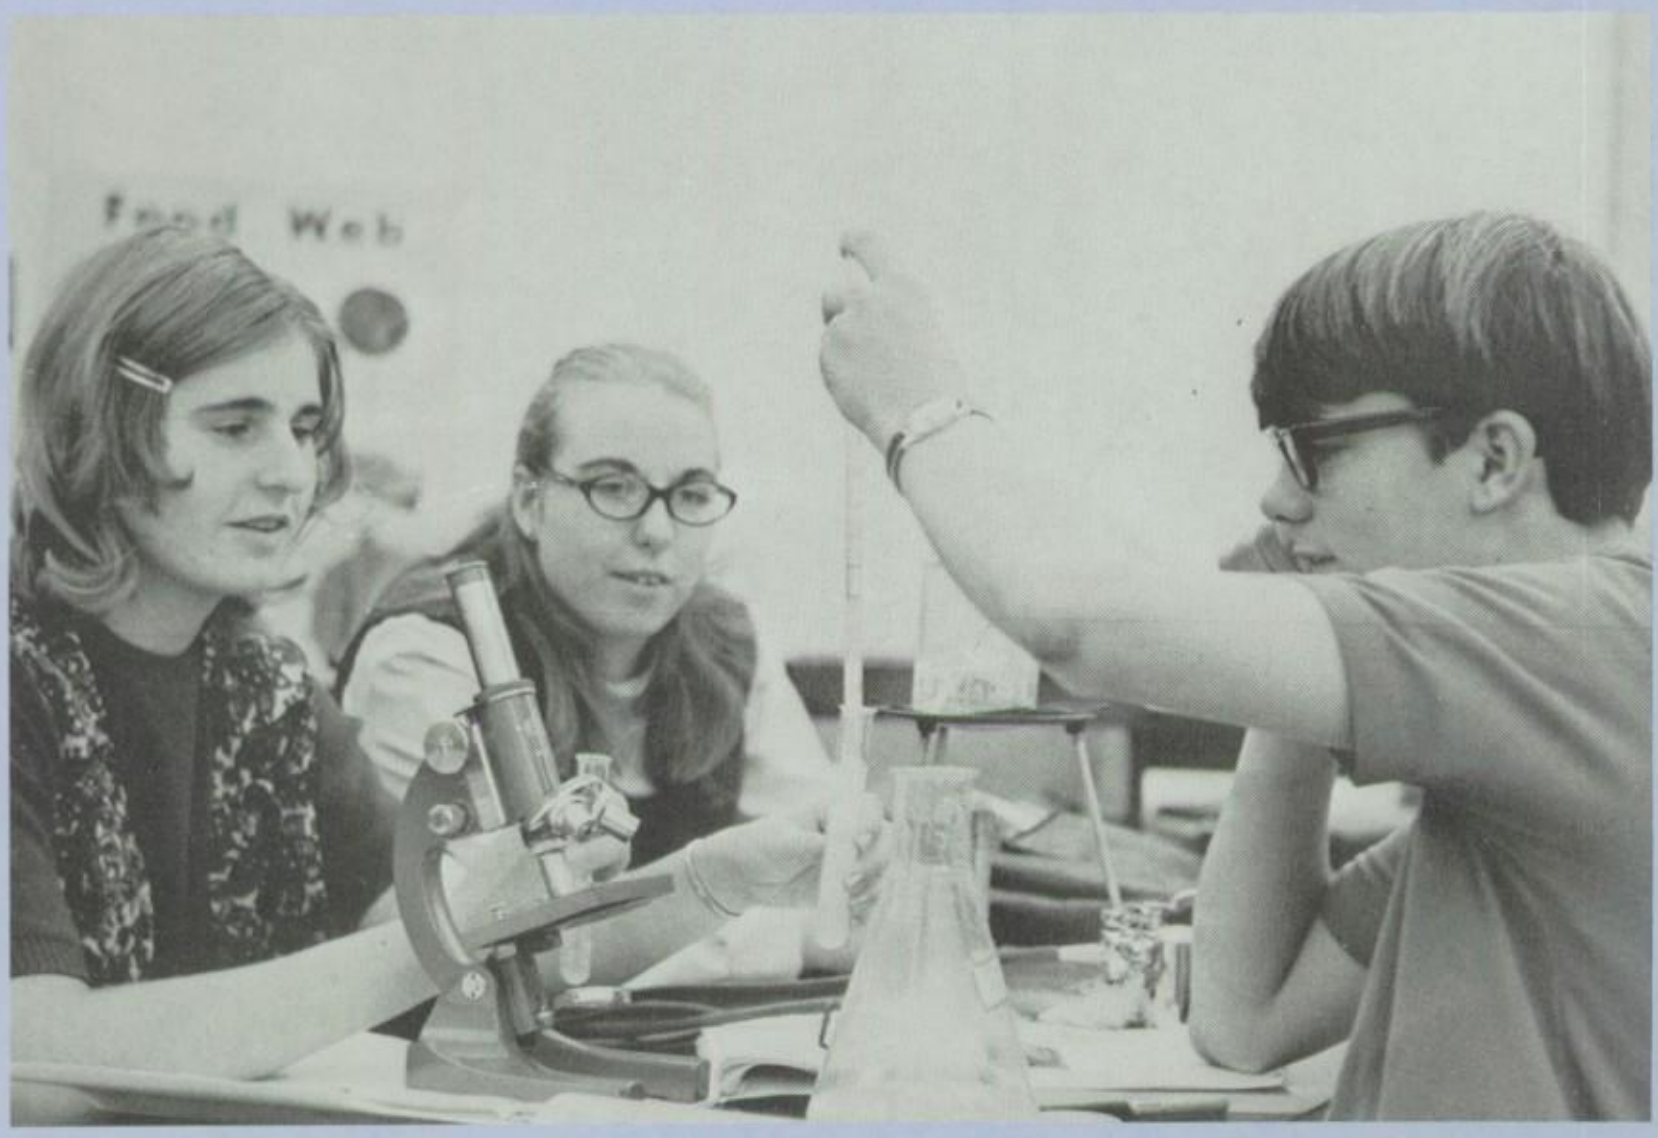
communicating with ideas



English experiments with new programs

This year the three English classes had exciting programs. The sophomores were on a pass or fail basis the first quarter. Their work was based on evaluation. The second, third, and fourth quarters, they had a choice of what they wanted to study. The junior English program is under revision and the department is trying to implement a new program. The seniors had excellent world literature classes.

The English resource room in C-9 is a small library with a reference system that helps direct students. Mrs. Crum works in the resource room with the help of student teachers and student aids. Mr. Levy, who also works in the resource room, types materials prepared by students.

English teachers this year were Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Hollandsworth, Mr. Jones, Mr. King, Mrs. Lathrop, Mr. Long, Mrs. Lundin, Mrs. Meier, Miss Niles, Mrs. Padgett, Mrs. Pierce, Mr. Smith, and Mrs. Wismer.

This year the Drama department did several plays. The first major production was Jane Eyre. The students in the Drama II and III put on, five one act plays, for the public. These were Overtones, Somebody Special, Fog, High Window and Rehearsal. Another major production was scheduled for the spring.

The purpose of Drama is to provide the opportunity of self-expression in front of an audience and this year this seemed to be achieved.

music department

The Music department, under the direction of Mr. Leonardo Perez Duarte, distinguished itself because all of its performing groups received superior ratings at the Northern California Music Festival.

The Dixie Jazz band has provided music and spirit for all the home basketball games, assemblies and various college functions.

The A Cappella Choir has performed for various service clubs throughout the year. It combined with the Chamber Orchestra to present the annual Christmas concert, the highlight being the beautiful "Song of Christmas." The orchestra and choir also went on a concert tour of the elementary schools in the area.

The high point of the year was the spring concert at the Performing Arts Center at Chico State. The concert featured Clementi's "Concertino" with Merdee Vanous on the piano.

The Music department wishes to express its deepest gratitude to Mr. Duarte, for without his inspiration and guidance, all of this would have been impossible.

the art of being

Communication is the art of being able to get the meaning across to people without the use of words. Art is a class you can enjoy yourself in, a class you are able to relax in. In an art class you are able to find an innermost being inside you, someone who you never knew existed. This year's art teachers, Mr. Randall, Mr. Simpson and Mr. Ramsden, helped the art student to find that someone.

historians communicate

Four score and seven years ago our forefathers built this school for Chico students because they wanted to increase knowledge in the younger generation. They wanted us to learn many things, but the most important were history and government both now and then.

Two years ago a new course was brought forth before the teachers. It was called Negro in America. In these past two years it has been well liked and very successful. In September we were also introduced to a new class called International Relations taught by Mr. Richter.

Listed under our History department are classes such as American Problems, California History, Psychology, U.S. History, World History, and Government. Our teachers are Mrs. Allen, Mr. Beck, Mr. Crowlie, Miss Niles, Mr. Miller, Mrs. Hollandsworth, Mr. Richter, Mr. Wasinger, Mr. Yerman and Mr. Randall.

skills in agriculture

The Agriculture department classes include Forestry, Plant Science, Animal Science, Basic Chemistry, Botany, and Ag Mechanics. Besides going to class they plan many field trips so the students can learn more about their classes. Most agriculture students are active during the silver dollar fair they enter their livestock in the exhibits, and help maintain the fairgrounds. Our Agriculture teachers are Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Clark, and Mr. Borge.

students seek knowledge in math and science

Unstructured time played an important role in science and math classes this year. In science it helped take pressure off the equipment and in math classes, teachers were able to hold small discussions. Teachers this year were Mr. Bader, Mrs. Reyhner, Mr. Sigel, Mr. Smith, Mr. Ronneberg, Mr. Whan, Mr. Main, Mr. Dixon, Mr. Fox, and Mr. Maddux.

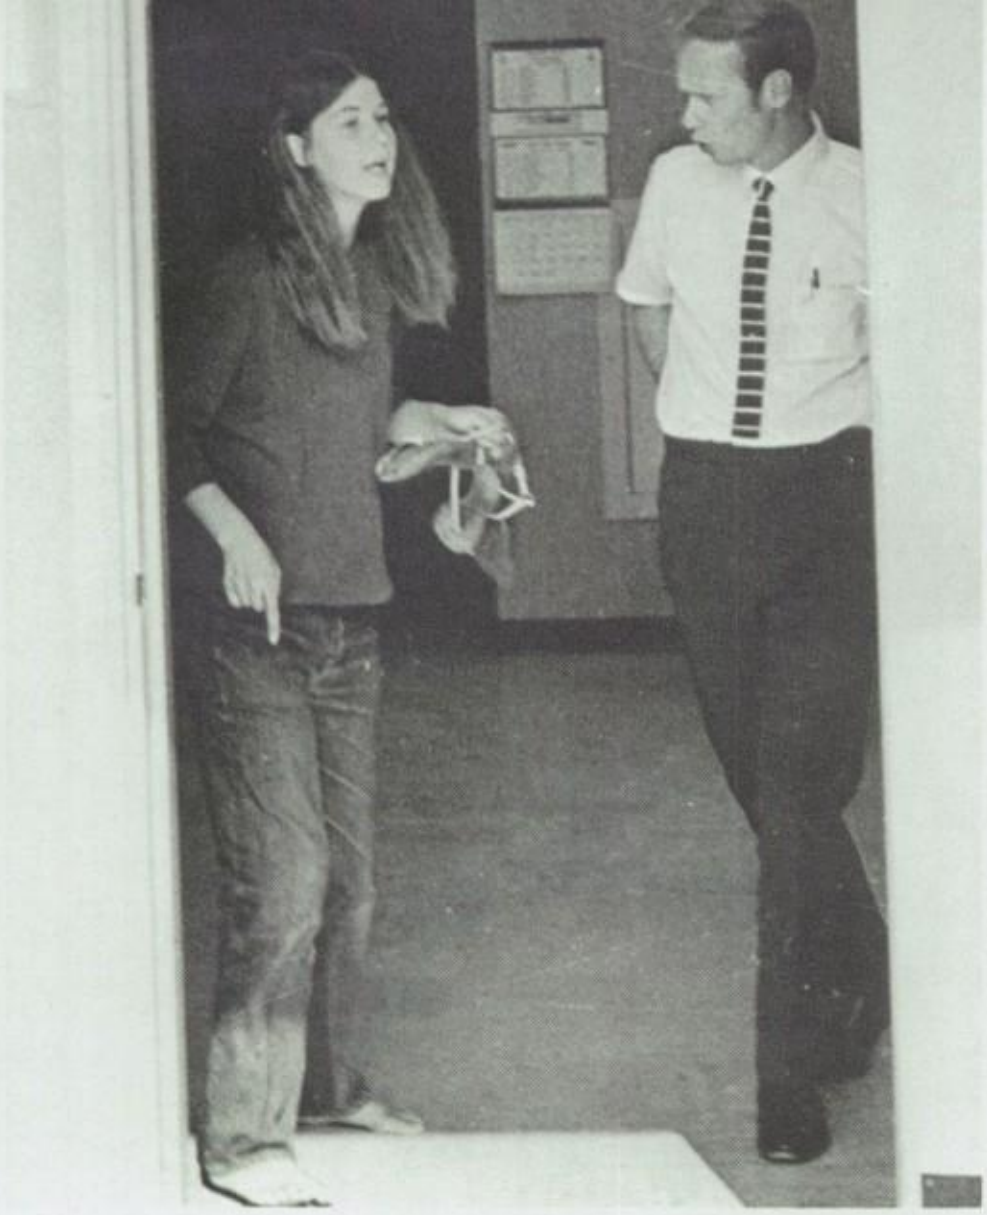
Business classes offer experience

Students learn to use adding machines in a business class.

Janine McAllister thumbs through envelopes.

Debbie Bruce stamps away in office practice.

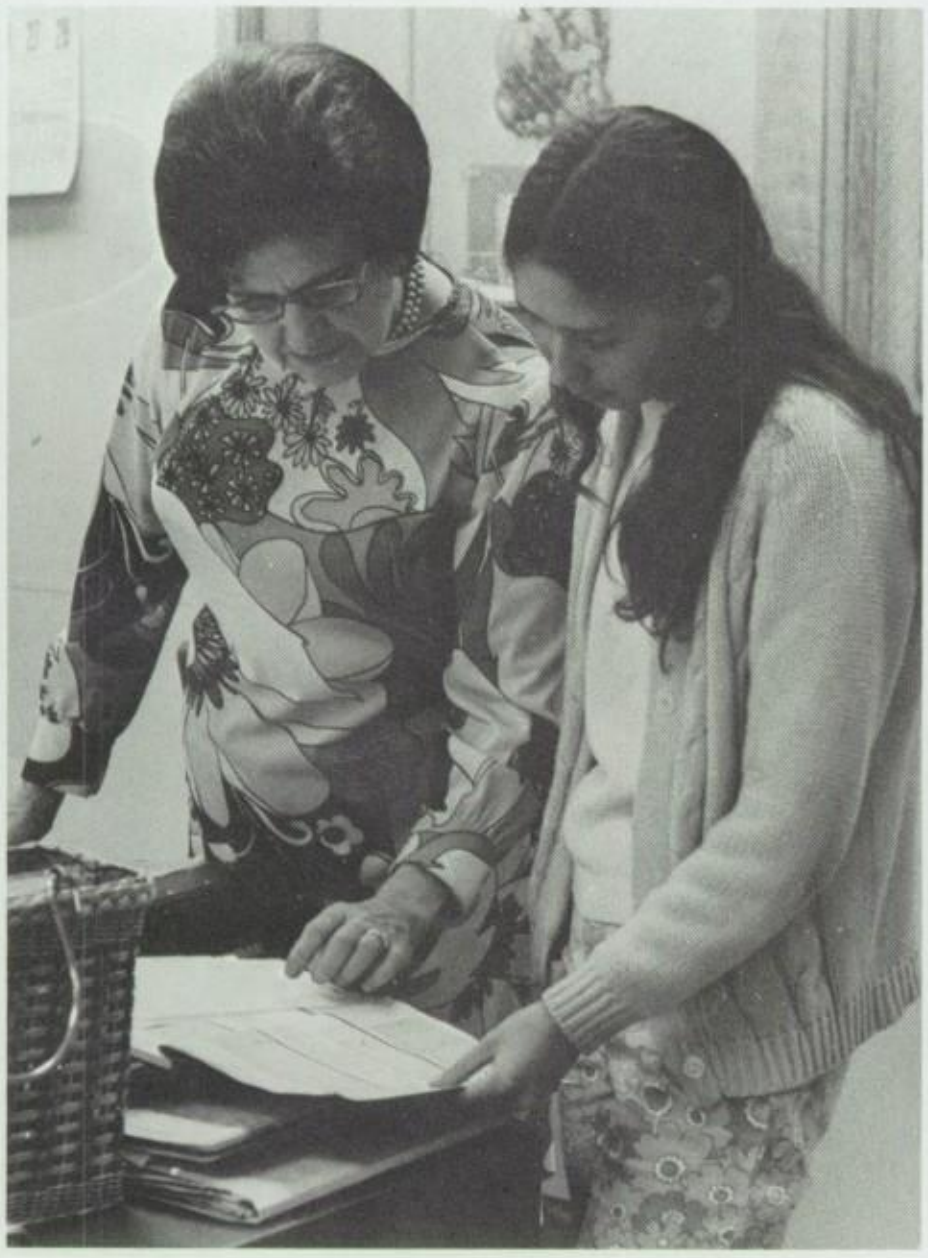


Mr. Panek discusses new style in footwear with Theresa Chamberlin.

A new teacher to the business department is Mr. James Panek. Mr. Panek comes from Chico Junior High. He is teaching the typing classes and work experience. When asked about teaching here he remarked, "the attitude of the students is very mature."

The advanced students make up dittos for the teacher and type the finals for the Red and Gold school paper. The office machines classes are being taught by Mrs. McReynolds. In her classes the students learn shorthand, bookkeeping, calculators, and how to operate adding machines.

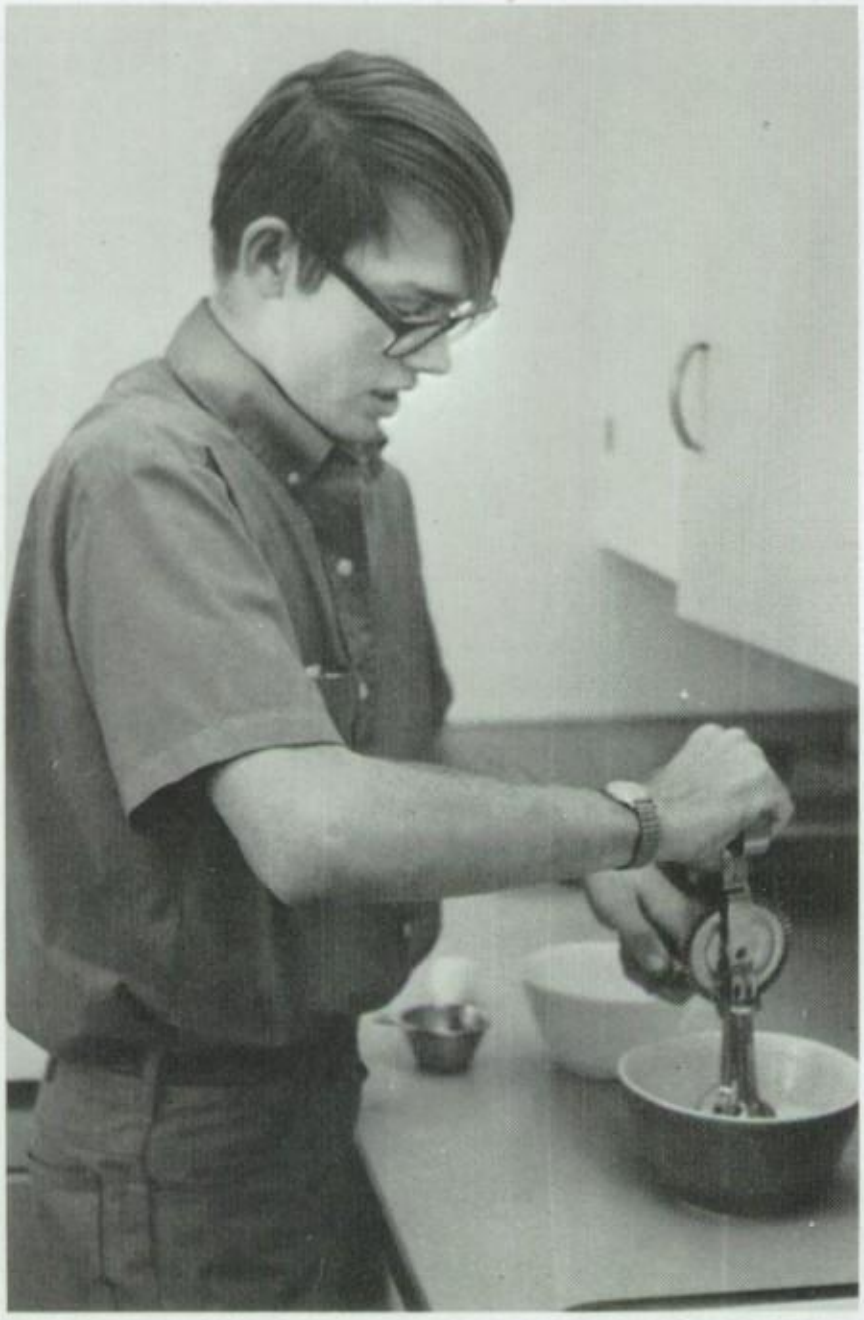
Mrs. McReynolds helps a student.



Ronda Lininger gains work experience.

coed homemaking

In homemaking this year the girls classes have been extended for the boys. Mrs. Boynton, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Prentice are the teachers. There are approximatly 120 boys signed up in these classes. They learn everything from cooking special dishes to sewing tuxedos. Also a semester of home furnishing and finances is being offered.



Ken Quaintance whips up a meal.

David Boggs and Steve Cox enjoy a hardy breakfast.

Mrs. Boynton looks to the photographer for help.

Sandy Davey finishes her coat.

In the girls classes, cooking is an important class. They learned how to make main dishes, desserts, and surprises for Thanksgiving and Christmas. The refreshments for the P.T.A. meetings and many other socials were made by the girls. They also learned home furnishings and decorating by making layouts and designs.

Mrs. Virginia Baxter, former Dean of Girls, has turned teacher. Mrs. Baxter serves CSHS as Counselor and teaches Clothing I during period 5. When asked about her class she remarked; "I love 'em to pieces! They are fun to teach." Mrs. Baxter said that the boys who have clothing often come in to finish up their projects. This year the girls have been working on lined skirts, jumpers, blouses, and lined pants.

Nellie Moralez puts the hem in her jacket.

Mrs. Prentice takes role in her advanced clothing class.

auto and metal shop

In Auto and Metal Shop, close communication between the teacher and the student enables the students to gain very important skills. These skills may be of value to them in the future.

Unstructured time aids both the teacher and the students in the use of the different machinery. Teachers this year were, Mr. Heinman and Mr. Borge.

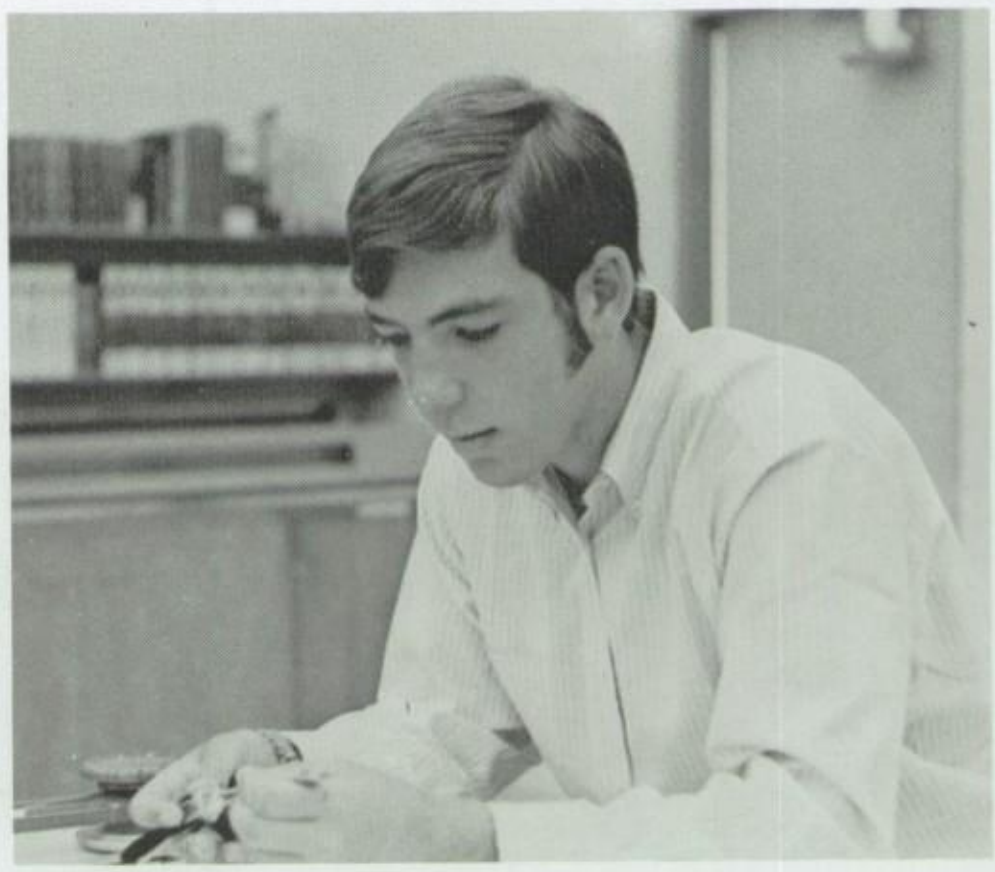
woodshop

A new teacher from Pleasant Valley, is Mr. Monlux. He is teaching beginning woodshop. When asked about open campus and flexible scheduling, he said, "Both are great-hope we can keep 'em." He then added that flexible scheduling gives the students more individual attention. Advanced woodshop is working on bigger and more technical pieces of wood. Examples are wooden skis, boats, and large cabinets, for china or glassware. The teacher in charge is Mr. Perkins.

Steve Abbott works diligently on his project.

Mr. Perkins hard at work.

Richard Carlton looks over plans.



Ken Beck works on an assignment.

Mechanical Drawing Increases Its Scope

Due to a Federal Grant from the government last year, the Mechanical Drawing Classes have been able to enlarge their scope due to professional equipment. Unstructured time has also allowed the students to expand their knowledge and use of the equipment in producing new and different creations. Mr. Kieth Perkins is in charge of Mechanical Drawing classes this year.

special ed.

Chico High has an excellent Special Education program. Students take electives and P.E. with the regular classes. One of the reasons for the excellence in this program is the co-operation of other teachers.

Special Education helps students to get ahead. They learn social and personal skills, health and safety and other beneficial facts that will help them later in life.

on the road

Among the more daring classes that are available here at CSHS are Driver's Ed and Training. Driver's Ed consists of the classroom basics and psychological aspects of driving. Driver's Training is the actual behind the wheel driving. Oh yes, our fearless foursome, Mr. Ross, Mr. Evraets, Mr. Monlux and Mr. Main do give thirty hours of classroom study and eighteen of actual experience.

The Speech students have learned to speak with feeling and expression. They found new ways in speaking to large gatherings. Under the direction of Mr. Smith the speech classes were very successful.

Clubs Grow at Chico High

This year has been a spirited year. A new club was formed, VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, which assists in establishing realistic vocational goals. A club formed last year, the Ecology Club, gained much interest, while the Junior Statesmen discussed politics. The Pep Club was rebuilt with about 110 members. Chess Club is small but enjoys its activities and Block 'C' has been active throughout the year. The Band marches on, followed by six flag bearers. Big Sisters worked hard to give us a student lounge, which was open during the day for recreational use.

FHA, FFA and FTA were joined by people who want a little more preparation for the future. Thespians, the dramatic club, produced two major plays this year while the Choir's spirit sang out as their Homecoming candidate won. The Ski Club went uphill with new members who sailed down the slopes. French Club and Art Club learned their respective skills, and had fun doing it. CSF and AFS held the interest of many of our top students throughout the year. With the good leadership of each of our clubs, there was nowhere to go but up, and we did.

The Chico High Panther football team came through for us this year by having a winning season. The Panthers came out on top in the Eastern Athletic Football League with a season record of 7 wins 2 losses while the league record was 4 wins 1 loss. Great team effort and some fine individual performances proved to be too much for most of the opposing school's teams. The highlite of the football season this year was the game against our crosstown rivals, the Pleasant Valley Vikings. The Panthers came out on top winning 24 to 12.

CHERI REIGNS

The exciting and successful 1970 Homecoming week, with campaigns and rally, was brought to an end Friday, October 30th with the football game, queen coronation, and Homecmoing dance.

The team was victorious as they won from Las Plumas 27-14. During halftime, the coronation ceremony began when the queens were brought on the field by the beautiful float made by CSHS students. Cheri Clanton, senior, was crowned 1970 Homecoming queen. The finalists were Jerry Lutz, senior, and Zandy Keyser, sophomore. Other candidates were Beverly Lofgren, Vicki Hoffman, Becky Martinez, Kathy Morrow, Liz Langlois, Janine McAllister, Lou Strong and Beth Gardner.

Runners show dedication

This year's Cross-Country team showed great determination. Despite a late start because of the lack of money, and the fact that only eight people went out, the team showed great dedication. The Cross-Country team competed for the first time in the Eastern Athletic League, and placed third in the league. All runners will be back next year and Chico will field one of its strongest teams ever.

Varsity Basketball

Panther basketball revived this year with three of last year's starters returning and a good group of players coming up from the JV's. The Panthers went into the newly formed EAL by competing in the Eastern Athletic League tournament where they won 3 and lost 1. The Panthers then opened up regular play with a sound win over long time rival Red Bluff. As coach Ken Piercy said, "Chico High will no longer be the doormat of the North Valley." It looks like the future is going to be bright in Panther basketball.

GAA activities

GAA members and their mothers enjoy refreshments at the GAA banquet.

Girls' Athletic Association is a well-rounded club covering many different activities. It is more than just an after-school sports program of hockey, basketball, softball and bowling because many social activities take place.

This year GAA served at different banquets. They held at mother-daughter banquet and managed a food concession at night school. Under the direction of advisors Mrs. Starnes and Miss Haines, GAA offers a wide variety of sports and social activities to its members.

Shelley Eggleston controls the basketball.

CUSD
SCHOOL BOARD

This year the school board agreed to meet with the Student Open Campus committee to discuss the way CSHS students were handling open campus. The Open Campus committee surveyed the residents immediately surrounding the school. The results showed that there are no more problems than there were when the campus was closed. The board agreed with the students and left the campus open.

RED & GOLD

The Red and Gold staff had a lot of new ideas this year. They redesigned the banner on the front; they added a new article called "Happily, Harley Harps;" and they also added coupons from the various businesses around town. Congratulations to the staff!

caduceus staff

Learning to communicate ideas was one of the goals of the Caduceus staff this year. Though pleasing everyone is hard, through our devoted time and dedicated work, we feel we have come as close to succeeding as we can. Each of us has gained knowlege and experience not only in journalistic skills but also in dealing with different personalities. It has been an experience we will always remember.

Discovering through photography

The students this year acquired skills to take formal portraits, do advertising layouts, take pictures of fashion modeling, and get unusual effects with the camera. They also learned to develop and print their pictures themselves. The class taught the students how to express themselves with a camera. As the moods of the photographer change, so do the pictures.
